

@rbartists
Spring '21

Dear colleagues,

it is with significant respect and appreciation that I address YOU as readers of this brochure: organizers, artists, agencies, our team - we all have lived through a challenging and “very different” year!

Raab & Böhm is particularly grateful to all those who, despite Corona have never given up hope and have continued together with us and our artists in our joint efforts to make music sound.

Our entire team is looking forward to experiencing concerts WITH audience again soon, to a summer with indoor and outdoor performances and to celebrating every single concert.

Let us all remain confident and hope that we will soon be able to listen to concerts again together!

Nora & our team

NEWS

Extended representation of Sir András Schiff

RB Artists is pleased to deepen the collaboration with Sir András Schiff. With immediate effect the company takes over his representation for Russia, France, the Netherlands and Luxembourg in addition to Eastern Europe and Austria. Also, we will continue the tour management of his ensemble, the Cappella Andrea Barca, which has been in our hands for several years.

Giedrė Šlekytė appointed Principal Guest Conductor of Bruckner Orchester Linz

Internationally sought-after Lithuanian conductor Giedrė Šlekytė has been appointed Principal Guest Conductor of the Bruckner Orchester Linz from 2021/22. Congratulations! An intensive artistic collaboration is planned in the forthcoming seasons, continuing on from her last highly appraised concert with the orchestra, which also included works by her compatriot Raminta Šerkšnytė.

Ivor Bolton continued his series of the “Secret Fauré” with Sinfonieorchester Basel for Sony, releasing a volume dedicated to his sacred vocal works.

Gautier Capuçon’s latest album, “Emotions,” has been topping international album charts since its release by Warner/Erato in November 2020.

Dennis Russell Davies and Filharmonie Brno started their own label with Anton Joseph Reijcha’s “Lenora” and continue with Dvořák.

Mirga Gražinytė-Tyla and the City of Birmingham Symphony Orchestra continued their “British Project” on Deutsche Grammophon with a digital release of Benjamin Britten’s “Sinfonia da Requiem” and William Walton’s Symphonic Suite “Troilus & Cressida.”

Axel Kober started a complete recording of all Mendelssohn symphonies with the Duisburger Philharmoniker.

Nikolai Lugansky’s third CD for Hamonia Mundi, of Beethoven’s late Piano Sonatas, was released internationally to great acclaim.

Anu Komsí presents a new album of songs by Kaija Saariaho – among them the “Saarikoski-songs,” which are currently being orchestrated by the composer herself, seeing their world premiere with Anu Komsí soon.

Online Records just released a new CD of works by Žibuoklė Martinaitytė with Giedrė Šlekytė conducting the Lithuanian National Symphony Orchestra and the Lithuanian Chamber Orchestra.

Emmanuel Pahud starred in Warner Classics’ final release for Beethoven’s 250th anniversary year – in an all-Beethoven programme featuring Daniel Barenboim, Daishin Kashimoto, Amihai Grosz, Sophie Dervaux and Silvia Careddu.

Antoine Tamestit’s latest release on Harmonia Mundi – featuring the two Brahms Sonatas op. 120 and his Zwei Gesänge op. 91 with Cedric Tiberghien and Matthias Goerne – has been getting great reviews, including in the New York Times.

Following his successful Beethoven symphony cycle, Robert Trevino’s second release for Ondine is devoted to the celebrated Basque composer Maurice Ravel, featuring the Basque National Orchestra.

Emmanuel Tjeknavorian opens his new career chapter as a conductor with a recording of Rimsky-Korsakov’s “Scheherazade,” released on 7 May on the Tonkünstler-Orchester’s own label.

NEW ALBUMS

Emmanuel Tjeknavorian: Baton instead of violin

Emmanuel Tjeknavorian will change his career emphasis to focus exclusively on conducting starting in the 22/23 season. It was always his goal to devote his career to conducting, which he studied full-time before winning the Second Prize at the 2015 Sibelius Competition.

From the 22/23 season onwards, he will, with a few exceptions, accept conducting engagements only. The current and upcoming seasons also see several conducting highlights, including concerts with the Niederösterreichisches Tonkünstlerorchester, Vienna Chamber Orchestra, Camerata Salzburg, Grazer Philharmoniker, Bruckner Orchester Linz, Konzerthausorchester Berlin and Münchner Symphoniker.

DEBUTS

Joseph Bastian makes his debut with Bayerisches Staatsorchester, Musikalische Akademie Mannheim, Tiroler Symphonieorchester Innsbruck and Orchestre de Chambre de Lausanne.

Jonathan Bloxham will make his debut with Deutsches Symphonie-Orchester Berlin with Holst's "Planets."

Marie Jacquot makes her debuts with Malmö Symphony Orchestra, Opéra National de Lorraine, Komische Oper Berlin (in concert) and Danish National Opera.

François Leleux © Jean-Baptiste Millot

François Leleux made his conducting debut with the WDR Sinfonieorchester.

Mirga Gražinytė-Tyla has made a series of European debuts: London Symphony Orchestra, Basel Sinfonieorchester, Royal Stockholm Philharmonic Orchestra, Sinfonieorchester des Bayerischen Rundfunks and Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France

Alexander Ullman makes his recital debut at the Vienna Konzerthaus.

FESTIVAL TOURS

RB Artists continues to work with the utmost dedication and confidence to realise our orchestras' guest appearances at the most prestigious summer festivals in 2021.

Mirga Gražinytė-Tyla with her CBSO and CBSO Chorus opens the Salzburg Festival with Britten's War Requiem. Together with the Mozarteum Orchestra Salzburg, she is a guest in Lucerne with a Weinberg-Schumann-program, as well as at the Carinthian Summer in Villach.

One of the highlights of this year's Ljubljana Festival is a concert of Concertgebouwkest Amsterdam under the baton of Daniel Harding with soloist Yefim Bronfman.

Four of our orchestras will be guest at the Grafanegg Festival:

Andrés Orozco-Estrada and the Filarmonica della Scala joined by Renée Fleming, the Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France under Mikko Franck together with Sol Gabetta, and - both in two concerts each - Czech Philharmonic conducted by Semyon Bychkov as well as Munich Philharmonic under the baton of Valery Gergiev, the latter with soloists Gautier Capuçon and Leonidas Kavakos.

The international Dvořák Festival Prague will be opened with two concerts of the Filarmonica della Scala with Andrés Orozco-Estrada plus soloists Daniel Müller-Schott and Julian Rachlin, followed by a concert of Camerata Salzburg under the baton of François Leleux.

For the first time in the festival's history, Vienna Philharmonic will join for two concerts, Herbert Blomstedt will be conducting.

The Orchestre Philharmonique de Radio France will be guest at the Mecklenburg-Vorpommern Festival in the unusual concert hall of Landgestüt Redefin, whereas Emmanuel Tjeknavorian will conduct the Camerata Salzburg at Herrenchiemsee Festival.
